PRC
Phoenix Revitalization Corporation

Under the Americans with Disabilities Act, PRC must make a reasonable accommodation to allow a person with a disability to take part in a program, service or activity. For example, this means that if necessary, PRC must provide sign language interpreters for people who are deaf, a wheelchair accessible location, or enlarged print materials. It also means that PRC will take any other reasonable action that allows you to take part in and understand a program or activity, including making reasonable changes to an activity. If you believe that you will not be able to understand or take part in a program or activity because of your disability, please let us know of your disability needs in advance it at all possible. Please contact PRC at 602-253-6895.

Según la Ley para Americanos con Discapacidades (ADA), PRC tiene la obligación de realizar esfuerzos razonables para facilitar que las personas discapacitadas puedan participar de los programas, servicios o actividades. Esto quiere decir, por ejemplo, que PRC debe proveer intérpretes de lenguaje de señas para las personas sordas, una localización accesible por silla de ruedas, o materiales impresos en letra agrandada. También significa que PRC hará un esfuerzo razonable para que usted pueda participar en una actividad o comprenderla, incluyendo cambios razonables en la actividad. Si usted cree que no podrá entender una actividad o participar en ella a causa de su impedimento, por favor, comuníquenos de antemano su impedimento si le es posible. Por favor, llame a PRC al 602-253-6895.

The Wells Fargo Stagecoach

Supporting the work of the Central City South Community Action Team -
Fighting blight, crime and revitalizing neighborhoods together

Concord Stagecoach

Considered the finest passenger vehicle of the time, the stagecoach traveled an average of five miles per hour, changing horses at stations every twelve miles. Carrying as many as 18 persons-nine inside and nine more on top- the Concord stagecoach was built to last by master craftsman at the Abbot-Downing Company of Concord, New Hampshire.

"Our coach was a great swinging and swaying stage, of the most sumptuous descriptions - an imposing cradle on wheels."

-Mark Twain, Roughing It, 1872

Fix-It Program Thanks Wells Fargo

On Saturday, September 28, 2013, PRC had the pleasure to partner with Wells Fargo Team Members to work on a paint project in the Grant Park Neighborhood of the Central City South community. This project could not have been accomplished without the Wells Fargo Team Member's hard work and dedication to making a positive difference in our neighborhood. On behalf of our residents, Phoenix Revitalization Corporation, thank you for making this project a success!

Your partnership counts!

Where does Smog come from? (PRC's Mother Earth Corner)

Smog in Phoenix comes from many different things. It can look like a thick yellow cloud or haze, but it is made up of tiny particles. These particles come from different places: mining, farming, construction and dust storms break down larger particles into smaller ones; the tiniest particles are produced by cars, trucks or buses running on gasoline. The tiny particles can also come from wood-burning stoves, burning fields for farming or burning forests. Breathing in smog for a long time can cause asthma and other breathing illnesses. If Phoenix switched to more clean energy sources (like windmills or solar panels), the smog would not be as bad. More trees can also help reduce smog.

¿De dónde viene la neblina de humo?

La neblina de humo en Phoenix proviene de muchas cosas diferentes. Puede verse como una nube espesa de color amarillo o neblina, pero se compone de pequeñas partículas. Estas partículas provienen de diferentes lugares: la minería, la agricultura, la construcción y el polvo de las tormentas rompen las partículas más grandes en otros más pequeños, las partículas más pequeñas son producidas por automóviles, camiones o autobuses que funcionan con gasolina. Las pequeñas partículas también pueden venir de las estufas de leña, la quema de campos para la agricultura o quema de bosques. La inhalación de humo durante mucho tiempo puede causar asma y otras enfermedades respiratorias. Si Phoenix cambiara a fuentes de energía más limpias (como los molinos de viento o paneles solares), la neblina de humo no sería tan mala. Más árboles también pueden ayudar a reducir esta neblina de humo.

A Message from Phoenix
City Councilman Daniel Valenzuela

City Of Phoenix Expands College Depot

As the father of two college students, I am reminded of the challenges, hurdles and life lessons that undergraduates face on their way to a degree – these experiences make us stronger and encourage a drive to overcome obstacles. However, many young people sitting in Phoenix-area high schools don't know the first step to take on the road to college, because they are the first in their family to even dream it possible.

In 2009, the city of Phoenix created College Depot, at Burton Barr Central Library – a bridge to higher education for underserved populations in Phoenix. Since opening its doors, College Depot has offered college-planning services to more than 10,000 aspiring college students of all ages, providing assistance with financial aid forms, scholarship essays and admission applications.

Since taking office in January 2012, I have made it a priority to expand this vital program into the neighborhoods where it is most needed. Today, I am pleased to say College Depot is open-for-business at the Palo Verde Library in Maryvale, 4402 N. 51st Ave.; Cesar Chavez Library, 3635 W. Baseline Road; Cholla Library, 10050 Metro Parkway E.; and South Mountain Community Library, 7050 S. 24th St.

Providing access to higher education is the right thing to do for our young people as well as a critical component of our city's economic development plan. A highly-educated workforce attracts businesses to our community, along with high-wage jobs, increased tax revenue, lower crime rates and all the elements of a healthy city.

This is why I place education at the top of my priority list and volunteer my time serving on the ASU West Community Advisory Board, and raising money for scholarship funds, including the Arvizu/Grand Canyon University Scholarship Fund and the Maricopa Community Colleges Foundation.

I encourage high school students to visit the College Depot in their neighborhood and attend upcoming workshops beginning in October. More information can be found at phoenixpubliclibrary.org/collegedepot or by calling 602-261-8847.

I look forward to hearing from you and can be reached at 602-262-7446 or council.district.5@phoenix.gov. Please follow me on Twitter @Daniel4Phoenix and facebook.com/DanielforPhoenix.

Phoenix City Councilman Daniel T. Valenzuela's policy priorities include public safety, economic development and neighborhood revitalization.

PHOENIX DAY
building futures for children and families

Summer at Phoenix Day

The past few months have been exciting and busy at Phoenix Day! As the days are getting shorter and the temperatures are getting cooler (sort of), we wanted to share with you some highlights of Summer, 2013 at Phoenix Day. The following activities happened between May-August of this year.

- 27 of our students graduated, in May, from our Pre-K program and have now started kindergarten.
- We partnered with the Tooth Doctor to provide 19 of our children with oral checkups and dental screenings.
- Our Healthlinks staff screened more than 1,000 individuals for AHCCCS and nutrition assistance.
- Case management/referrals were provided to 240 individuals linking them to medical services , food boxes, community clinics and employment services.
- In our early childhood education program, our children explored physics and motion with the Arizona Science Center, continued to develop their gross motor skills with Ninja Agility Training, and learned water and helmet safety with Oliver the Otter.
- A total of 65 youth participated in our Central Park program where PBS Kids provided laptops and facilitated STEM learning activities.

All of this is made possible by your support of Phoenix Day. Thank you for everything you do to support children and families in our community.

We currently have space available for families who are looking for high quality early education experiences for their children. Please call 602.252.4911 or email lmccool@phoenixday.org for more information or to schedule a tour.
